Payments to an overseas bank account are made via Convera (formerly Western Union) and will incur their charge. They do not apply a transaction fee, but their charge of 3% is taken by reducing the exchange rate. If a regular payment is made to you then the amount you receive each time may vary due to the exchange rate applied at the time the payment is made. Payments will take 7-10 working days to clear into your account. Alternatively, we can pay to your UK bank account so you can arrange to transfer the funds to your overseas account, which may cost you less.
